

APPLE ACQUIRES CBS SALE APPROVED BY CBS BOARD 459-2

CBS Board members celebrate after voting in Teaneck, NJ

CBS BOARD TO MOVE TO ARIZONA TACO STAND

The CBS Board has voted to relocate its semi-annual meetings to Tucson, Arizona, where one of the members has a retirement home.

Veteran Board member Ed Silverman says he sparked the relocation drive because New Jersey has become, using his term, passé. Silverman made clear that passé is a Spanish word.

Silverman says he chose Arizona because of its wonderful array of taco joints, and the fact that he can get there easily in his private plane.

BOB LEEDER TO CHALLENGE CHRIS CHRISTIE IN IOWA

CBS Board member Robert Leeder, telling Christie to sit down and shut up, announced his candidacy at a packed news conference during which he introduced his new campaign manager, Mina Not'Small. Leeder said that Ms. Not'Small will advise him in all capacities, day and night.

Leeder plans to meet with Las Vegas casino entrepreneur Sheldon Adelstein in his fund-raising quest.

Apple to Convert All CBS B'cast Properties to Live Streaming for Watches Only

In a decision that came as no surprise, the Board voted to unload CBS, saying it had become a burden to stockholders and audience. The Board, however, will remain intact in an advisory capacity to Apple.

No cash will be exchanged in the sale, with new Apple Chairman Charles Osgood saying that CBS Board members and stockholders will receive gifts of Apple watches, iPads, and iPhones instead.

CBS Board spokesman Ray Hoffman says it became obvious that traditional over-the-air media and its cable-TV counterpart have become obsolete.

"Apple is the only hope, and whatever it decides the world will follow," Hoffman says.

BILL O'REILLY JOINS CBS BOARD; VOWS SHAKEUP

Bill O'Reilly, saying that he is putting his reputation on the line merely by joining the CBS Board, vows to lead insurgents in reorganizing the group, and that he is the man to head it.

O'Reilly, who will remain as a consultant to the Fox/O'Reilly Network, promises to eliminate deadwood among the Board members. O'Reilly is known for his daring in covering war zones around the world.

CBS BOARD FASHION SHOW: HIT AND A MISS

In a first for the Board, its recent fashion show displayed all the latest styles. Members repeatedly called for it to become an annual event. But a spokesman for the Board, Bob Gibson, says such an event will be unlikely.

Gibson pointed out that the unruly nature of the first show, while popular with the members, led to the police being called, bottles thrown, plus a major assessment of each member to pay for damages to the restaurant.

Nevertheless, the fashion show produced major publicity for the Board, despite the arrests of several of its members. Gibson says, "Things like this happen. We're family."

DAVID LEVIN RETIRES FROM BIRD WATCHING

Retired Newsradio88 staffer M. David Levin, says he's had it with bird watching. For many years, Levin has observed birds using binoculars and telescopes from the upper floor window of his Lower Manhattan apartment.

He says the police raid on his apartment was uncalled for and that, on this occasion, he was no Peeping Tom. Levin proved his innocence by producing his official Ornithological League of Saganaw County, Michigan, membership card.

Levin says he's returning to his first love: his collection of crushed beer cans and original uncapped Manischewitz Wine bottles.

FCC ELIMINATES AM RADIO BAND

The move was widely expected after recent surveys showed that AM radio had no listeners. FCC Chairman Bill Diehl said, "I'm glad to see it go. The static and commercials were awful."

HISTORY OF CBS BOARD TO BE PUBLISHED

E. L. James, author of the wildly successful novel Fifty Shades of Gray, will write the history of the CBS Board. James, whose best-seller was recently released as a motion picture, is in the process of researching the Board and interviewing all of its members. James says she plans to take literary license, using scenes from her novel, in order to spice up the narrative.

"Frankly," James says, the Board is just not interesting."

GLICKMAN ADMITS: HE MADE IT ALL UP!

Famed WCBS meteorologist Glickman has revealed that his daily forecasts for more than 35 years were STOLEN directly from Old Farmer's Almanac. "I make no apologies," says Glickman. "The almanac's forecasts are more accurate than anything I'd want to predict, and what I didn't steal I made up."

He notes that none of his forecasts have ever been wrong.

Glickman just signed a new thirty-two year contract with Apple.
